

PELLET SUPPLY IN THE NWT

Biomass fuels, also known as wood pellets, are quickly changing how the North heats its homes and businesses. Retailers from the South Slave to the Mackenzie-Delta are carrying bulk and bagged pellets to help fuel your decision to switch to a greener energy source.

Rebates are available through Arctic Energy Alliance for making the switch to biomass for homes, businesses and communities. It's the strategic, planned investments in biomass technology by the Government of the Northwest Territories and private enterprises are helping to make the change more affordable for all Northerners to save money and stay warm!
